4. What aspects of the webinar did you find most beneficial, and why?

- The diversification from the facilitators and engagement on the chat box.
- The training provided by UN DESA.
- All of them. Specially UN DESA.

- Public administration.
- I appreciate the practical experience of countries on the topic.
- The practical example of how authorities were brought to account for the exercise equipment scandal. I found it beneficial as it can be replicated anywhere.
- Interactive nature.
- Transparency and accountability stood out of course. But I was mostly intrigued by the presentation of Ms. Anni Haataja, in particular her comment about the public servant internalizing integrity.
- The lecture because it provides more context to transparency and accountability.
- Techniques using technology in solving the corruption.
- Anti-corruption law.
- The sharing of speakers and Q&A.
- I like the quick presentations. They are digestible.
- The clear statistics and approach dealing with the corruption practices.
- Presentation of the short video from UN DESA
- The presentations and in sights of presenters and other participants who have actively shared their thoughts.
- In most of the discussions, we have very common projects and agencies that enforces the transparency, accountability and ethics in which will be a good baseline for us as well.
- The practical country case presentations.
- Importance of transparency on government activities and expenditure.
- Experiences of other countries.
- Good balance in panelists.
- Abordaje de la transparencia, etica publica en las instituciones para sostener una buena democracia en las naciones, debe haber buenas practicas y buenos lideres para el cambio. (Addressing transparency, public ethics in institutions to sustain good democracy in nations, there must be good practices and good leaders for change)
- UN DESA toolkit.
- Available toolkits and examples.
- UN DESA presentation on Goal 16 and country wise performance on the goal and on Transparent and Accountability and what should be done to finish Corruptions. It is a great lesson to learn.
- Topic discussion and the Q&A.
- We are having technology as a tool in fighting corruption.
- Examples.

5. Do you have any suggestions for topics or improvements for future webinars on similar themes?

- Resources management.
- Roles of CSO and international bodies in combatting corruption.
- Would appreciate if a maximum of questions could be answered.
- SDGs and public administration.

- I would suggest more interactions with the participants using digital tools to allow sharing point of view on the topic (e.g. Wooclap or Mentimeter).
- Good effort.
- Framework for gathering data and facilitating Information on integrity in the public sector.
- Policy and program administration.
- Governance.
- Leadership and good governance.
- Using AI in recognizing corruption.
- Shall invite some speakers from the developed and developing countries as well as international organizations.
- Participants should be allocated enough time for discussions.
- Indigenous peoples policy framework for a nation.
- Joint government efforts at fighting corruption.
- More sharing about other countries' experiences.
- Keep doing more webinars for transparency, integrity and accountability.
- Seguir con temas que amenazan a la democracia, como corrupción. (Continue with issues that threaten democracy, such as corruption)
- Just on one issue; that something must be done for IT's to keep all Powerpoint presentation visible rather part of to be covered by participant board, and so sometimes to miss the content.
- Future outlook.
- Government procurement.
- The presentation must be in English for us to understand.
- Please try to use more social media in order to inform about this issues.
