

Capacities Development Webinar

“Developing Institutional Capacities in Digital Transformation for More Inclusive and Equitable Recovery”

14-15 December 2020

Economic and Social Commission for Western Asia

UNITED NATIONS

الاسكوا

ESCWA

Dr. Nibal Idlebi

Chief of Innovation Section

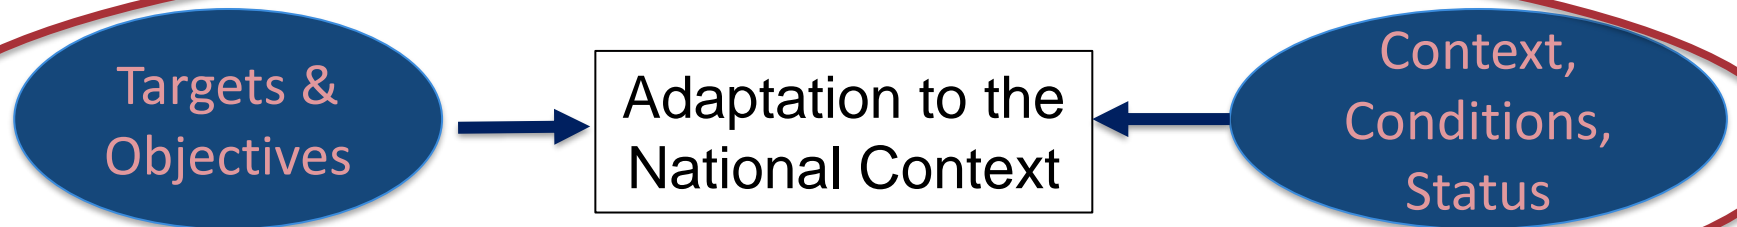

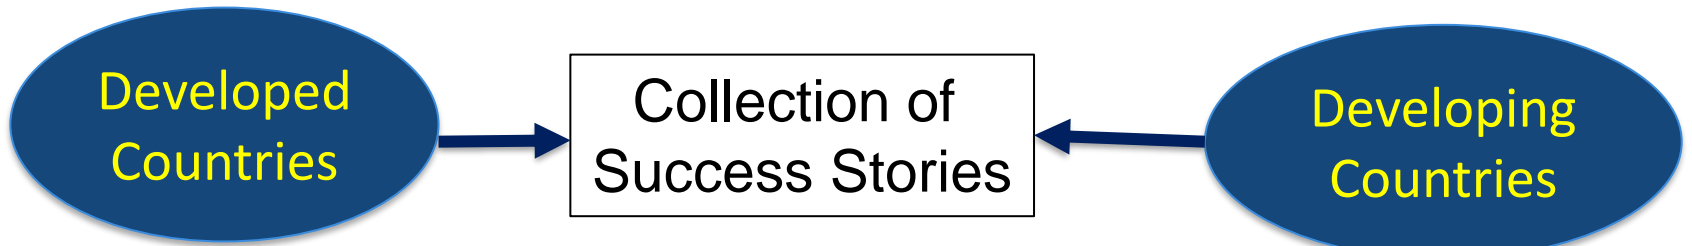

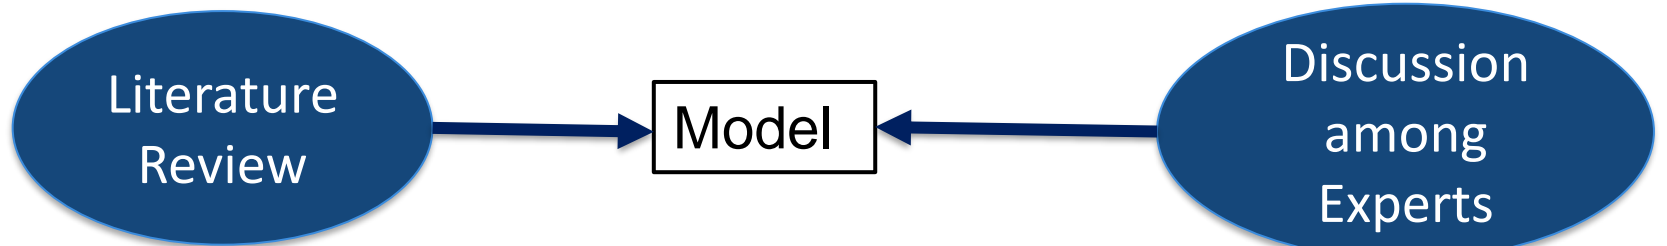

Developing Institutional Capacities to ensure Digital Transformation

- Developing Institutional Capacity :
 - Building capacity of public service officials
 - Creating the appropriate structure (Unites, Procedures)
 - Ensure the functioning of the established structure.
- Developing institutional capacity is essential pillar in all international or regional frameworks for digital transformation and in national digital transformation strategy of all countries.

Role of International Organizations in Digital Transformation

- Inform leaders on new trends
- Advise on the formulation of policy/strategy
- Advocate on the importance of digital transformation and its new aspects (role of emerging technologies)
- Transfer of knowledge and promote exchange of success stories
- Build capacity of public service officials

Capacity Development References

Capacity building on Digital transformation

Challenge:

- Various gaps among countries →

No one model fit all

Proposals

- Including all concerned UN entities in the design of new models
- Increasing the involvement of countries (developing, LDC, LLDCs) in the global discussion
- Proposing various models

But most probably there is still need for customization of capacity building

Capacity building on Digital transformation

Challenge:

- Coherence and coordination among UN agencies

Proposals:

- Better communication on planned capacity building programmes
- Stronger collaboration among UN entities for the delivery of capacity building
- Improved coordination among UN entities and International organizations

Collaborators for achieving specific missions

Thank you

UNITED NATIONS

الاسواق

ESCWA

Dr. Nibal Idlebi

Chief of Innovation Section

E-mail: idlebi@un.org